Introduction

The College of Biblical Studies Style Guide is a resource guide based on A Manual for Writers of Research Papers, Theses, and Dissertations (9th Edition), i.e., The Turabian Manual.¹ This Style Guide should be a reference for times when The Turabian Manual allows for different styles. It will allow both students and faculty to maintain a standard formatting style that will add clarity and consistency to the writing assignments required of the College of Biblical Studies student.

General Guidelines

The guidelines listed below provide a standard writing format for all class writing assignments. These guidelines are representative of standard academic formatting style guidelines; however, the final classroom instructions of the instructor take precedence over the writing guides presented below.

Sections of a CBS Paper

CBS typically requires the following sections in a written paper for both standard and formal writing assignments:

1. Title Page (all Class Papers)
2. Introduction
3. Body (Including Footnotes)
4. Conclusion
5. Bibliography

Title Page (All Class Papers)

A title page is required for all CBS writing assignments. Based on the assignment, the Title Page will be formatted according to standards outlined in The Turabian Manual. Place the title of the paper a third of the way down the page, centered (i.e., all major words and non-prepositions capitalized), and in bold font. If the paper has both a main title and a subtitle, put the main title on a single line, separated by a colon, and begin the subtitle on a new line (double-spaced). Several lines below the title, place your name, course title (including course number), professor name, and date. For CBS assignments, a black, Times New Roman 12 pt. font is required for all Title Page typeface entries.

Introduction

The introduction to an academic paper is a beginning group of ideas in sentence format that introduce the author's topic to its reader. An effective introduction will include a strong thesis statement that will identify the main idea and concept of the paper being presented. The introduction establishes the tone, mood, and purpose of an essay and is therefore a critical component of all academic and scholastic essays.

Body (Including Footnotes)

The body of the paper is the bulk of an academic essay. The body of the essay includes all paragraphs in the essay that support the introduction and thesis statement. Body paragraphs can be developed through illustration, narration, description, process analysis, division and classification, definition, comparison and contrast, cause and effect, and argument.

2 The Turabian Manual, see Figure A.1, 391.

3 See Appendix A of this Style Guide.

4 The Turabian Manual, see 10.1, 106-110.
Conclusion

The concluding paragraph brings the writer's paper to a successful end. The conclusion paragraph should relate to the introductory paragraph and support the body paragraphs that have been developed. In addition, the thesis statement should support the important elements of the body paragraphs in order to lead the reader to a logical and reasonable conclusion to the story purpose or idea.

Bibliography

The Bibliography is an alphabetical listing of an author's sources used in a particular academic writing essay or submission format. The Bibliography is formatted according to Turabian academic rules and guidelines. By effectively presenting the sources used in an essay, the writer can avoid plagiarism and faulty resource collaborations.5

General Page Formatting

All papers submitted for class assignments will utilize a general page format style unless otherwise noted or instructed by the assigning professor. A 1” margin all around edge of the paper is standard and 1” TAB indentions beginning all paragraphs. Page numbers will always be top right. Note also all papers will be on 11 x 8 ½ white paper, using Times New Roman Font, 12pt Font size, and black ink only. If including words in Hebrew or Greek, use the SBL Font. If transliterating foreign words, use italics and follow instructions generally outlined in The Turabian Manual.6 If the paper is formatted in Microsoft Word, the appropriate line spacing can be achieved using the following steps. On the Microsoft tool bar, access the Home ribbon tab by left clicking on the word Home. Scroll to the right on the tool bar and right click on the lower right hand corner with the down arrow icon. Enter the appropriate computer parameters and spacing guidelines by typing a zero in the Indention and Paragraph boxes. Choose (a) Alignment “Left” and (b) Double Line Spacing for the proper spacing through the entire paper.

Footnotes need to be properly place at the bottom of the page with Single spaced, Single Tab each new line. Use “Times New Roman” as the Font and the Font size will be 10pt., with black ink only. When using Footnote initiation in “Word” it automatically provides adjusted spacing and line placement. See specific examples to properly format Footnotes in “Special Page Formatting”7 and “Specific Formats for References in Footnotes and the Bibliography.”8

Special Page Formatting Details

Sections and Subsections

Headings should be used to mark out large ideas that you are addressing in your paper that require (usually) more than one paragraph to outline fully. Headings are helpful for your reader to be able to easily follow along with what you’re writing.

Different level headings are outlined in The Turabian Manual as follows:9

- First Level: Centered Boldface or italic type, headline-style capitalization. For example:

  Contemporary Art

- Second Level: Centered, regular type, headline-style capitalization. For example:

  What Are the Major Styles?

- Third Level: Flush left, boldface or italic type, headline-style capitalization. For example:

  Abstract Expressionism

7 See Appendix B of this Style Guide.

8 Ibid.

9 Chapter A.2.2.4, 404-405.
- Fourth Level: Flush left, regular type, sentence-style capitalization. For example:

Major painters and practitioners

- Fifth Level: Run in at the beginning of paragraph (no blank line after), boldface or italic type, sentence-style capitalization, terminal period. For example:

Pollock as the leader. The role of leading Abstraction Expressionism was filled by Jackson Pollock […]

Block Quotations

Block quotation formatting is required for prose quotations that are longer than four lines of quoted text. For poetry quotations, block quotation formatting is required when quoting two or more lines of poetic verse. Single line spacing and a ½ line indention is required for all block quotations. For CBS assignments, single-spaced, Times New Roman 12 pt. font in black ink is required for all block quotations.\(^\text{10}\)

If you introduce the quotation with a complete sentence, a colon is required after the sentence. The cited text is then single spaced and indented ½ inch. The following is a good example for how to cite a longer quotation from another work.

Example 1:
Tony Evans suggests that in order for the church to move forward, there must be a unique and unifying purpose:

Jesus has not asked you to be a fan. He has plenty of fans already. Every Sunday morning at 11:00 AM, His fan base shows up in full force. They show up in stadiums, often filled to capacity, all around the world. Within these stadiums, there is great emotion, great singing, preaching, excitement, cheers of adulation, recognition, and statements of affirmation. But Jesus is not interested in just having fans. No fan ever set the stage for a battle to be won.\(^\text{1}\)

\(^{10}\) The Turabian Manual, 25.2.2, 361-363. See Appendix E in this Style Guide.
If you utilize a block quotation, but integrate the quote into your own writing, end punctuation in the introductory phrase is not required.

Example 2:
Tony Evans suggests that

Jesus has not asked you to be a fan. He has plenty of fans already. Every Sunday morning at 11:00 AM, His fan base shows up in full force. They show up in stadiums, often filled to capacity, all around the world. Within these stadiums, there is great emotion, great singing, preaching, excitement, cheers of adulation, recognition, and statements of affirmation. But Jesus is not interested in just having fans. No fan ever set the stage for a battle to be won.¹

Block quotations should not be overused in shorter papers but may be used in longer papers where summarizing or paraphrasing are not the best method for citing another person’s work.¹¹

Proofreading & Spell Check

Please take care when using the “Spell-Check” feature of a word processing program. Remember that a spell-check program will not catch missing words. Nor will it catch mis-used, but correctly spelled words, like “he’ instead of “the.” There is no substitute for re-reading, word-for-word, the paper for catching errors. Better still is having someone else read the paper.

Citing the Bible

When citing the Bible at CBS, the first time you cite Scripture in your paper, in addition to citing the verse, you should use the following phrase to indicate the translation of the Bible you have chosen to use throughout the paper:

Example 1: ¹¹Unless otherwise noted, all Scripture quotations are from the [INSERT VERSION USED].

Example 2: When Jesus cries out, “My God, my God” (Matt. 27:46),¹² He is echoing the words of Psalms 22:1, written over 400 years earlier.

¹¹For more on summarizing, paraphrasing, and quoting, see The Turabian Manual, 7.4-7.10, 77-84.

¹²Unless otherwise noted, all Scripture quotations are from the New International Version (NIV).
The footnote references the translation being used throughout the paper, the Scripture quotation is referenced in parentheses, and the punctuation is appropriately placed.

When quoting a verse, use the parenthetical style with the Traditional style abbreviations, as outlined in section 24.6.1 in The Turabian Manual. When leading with the full Scriptural citation in the sentence, use the Full Name version, as outlined in The Turabian Manual.

- Spell out the name of a biblical book when it is referred to in its entirety or in running text.
  - Incorrect: Paul begins Rom. 12 with “therefore” indicating a transition.
  - Correct: Paul begins Romans 12 with “therefore” indicating a transition.
- Use a colon (:) between chapter and verse, a semicolon (;) between references.
  - Incorrect: (Gen 15.6, 34.3)
  - Correct: (Gen. 15:6; 34:3)

For a full list of abbreviations and names, see Appendix D or The Turabian Manual, sections 24.6.1-24.6.7.

Shortened Notes

A shortened note form is to be used on second and subsequent uses of a reference when used in the footnote. The shortened note should include enough information for readers to find the full citation in your bibliography or in an earlier note. Subsequent notes should be consistent in their shortened form.13 This is shown in footnotes one and three in the examples below.

Example 1:

13 The Turabian Manual, 16.4.1, 164.
Example 2:

2 Unless otherwise noted, all Scripture quotations are from the New International Version (NIV).

Use of the Abbreviation Ibid.

Use the Latin abbreviation ibid. (for ibidem, "in the same place") to cite a work already cited in the immediately preceding note. Ibid. should be capitalized but not italicized and must end with a period. If a note is for the same work but found on a different page, place a comma after ibid. followed by the page number. This is shown in the examples written below.

Example 1: (same exact page number as previous citation)

2 Ibid.

Example 2: (different page number but same source as previous citation)

2 Ibid., 82.

IMPORTANT: Your reader is going to assume that Ibid. refers only to the citation immediately preceding the ibid. citation. So if you are intending to refer to a source that is two notes up (not the immediately preceding note), you must use the abbreviated citation (See previous section).

Capitalization

There are numerous instances of stylized uses of capitalized terms. To help eliminate questions about when to capitalize these terms, a list of common theological and biblical terms can be found in Appendix C. Other capitalization rules are found below.

Section Headings

- Capitalize the first and last words in titles and all other major words (nouns, pronouns, verbs, adjectives, adverbs, and most conjunctions except the ones listed below).
- Lowercase these words: a, an, and, as, but, for, or, nor, the, and to.
- Lowercase prepositions, regardless of length, except when they are used adverbially or adjectivally (up in Look Up, down in Turn Down, etc.) or when they compose part of a Latin expression used adjectivally or adverbially (De Facto, In Vitro, etc.).
- Lowercase the part of a proper name that would be lowercased in text, such as de or von.

Titles of Works

- Use italics for book titles, blog titles, book-length poems and musical works (such as an opera), movies, radio and television programs, and regularly appearing comic strips.
- Use Times New Roman and quotation marks for titles of articles, individual blog entries, chapters, short literary works, poems, and individual television or radio episodes.
- Use Times New Roman without quotation marks for titles of book series and website names. However, if the website corresponds with a normally italicized title, such as a book, the website name would also be italicized.

The Davidic Covenant, as described in 2 Samuel 7 and 1 Chronicles 17, is an unconditional covenant established with David to guarantee an eternal kingdom to his descendants. Inherent in the promises of the Abrahamic Covenant was the promise of kings among Abraham’s descendants. For Genesis 17:6 states, “And I will make you exceedingly fruitful, and I will make nations of you, and kings shall come forth from you.”¹ The Davidic Covenant established the line from which the king who would rule over the eternal kingdom would come. While the Davidic Covenant never promised uninterrupted rule in David’s line, it did establish that the covenant would never be abrogated by the discipline administered in response to the disobedience of David’s descendants. Hence, the purpose of this paper is to explore the background of the Davidic Covenant as described in 2 Samuel 7, the nature (i.e. unconditional and eternal) and provisions of the Davidic Covenant, and the hope for future fulfillment of the Davidic Covenant.

The Background of the Davidic Covenant

In “The Biblical Covenants,” Lincoln gives several references to the Davidic Covenant in Scripture. The Davidic Covenant was declared and established in 2 Samuel 7.² It was expounded in Psalm 89:3–4. The Davidic Covenant is referred to by David in 2 Samuel 23:5; Solomon in 2 Chronicles 6:15–16; the kings chroniclers in 2 Chronicles 2:17; the Psalmist in Psalm 132:10, 11; by the prophet Jeremiah in Jeremiah 33:20–21; by the angel Gabriel to Mary in Luke 1:31–33; by Peter on the day of Pentecost in Acts 2:29–31; and by James in the first council in Acts 15:14–18.

¹ Unless otherwise noted, all Scripture quotations are from the New American Standard Bible (NASB).

² Lincoln does not mention it, but this is also in 1 Chronicles 17.

Bibliography formatting:
- 12pt font size
- Single line spacing internally
- ½ inch hanging indent
- Blank line between entries.

- Subsequent works are prefaced with five hyphens
- Entries are listed in alphabetical order
- Notice the differences between the footnotes style and the bibliography style (largely periods are used instead of commas, but there are other differences as well).
