

Thursday, June 23, 2022

Trouble viewing this email? Click here

TO KEEP CHRIST AT THE CENTER OF INTERCOLLEGIATE ATHLETICS

For Immediate Release Contact: Brandon Gilmore, Director of Communications (bgilmore@thenccaa.org)

NCCAA Announces College of Biblical Studies as New Member for 2022-23

Greenville, SC (6/23/22) - The National Christian College Athletic Association (NCCAA) is pleased to announce and welcome College of Biblical Studies as a new member for the 2022-23 academic year. Clinton College, Covenant College, and Redeemer University were previously announced as new members.

NCCAA Executive Director Dan Wood stated, "The 2022-23 roster of new members are a diverse group of institutions that share in the same Christian mission as our current members. With their unique sport offerings and intercollegiate athletic histories, we hope to assist them in accomplishing their Great Commission work through our support and opportunities."

College of Biblical Studies

Located in Houston, Texas, College of Biblical Studies will be entering as a provisional Division II member in the Southwest Region with plans to launch the following NCCAA sports: Men's & Women's Basketball.

"We look forward to joining the NCCAA family and contributing to a long history of commitment of equipping students to make a positive impact for Christ," said President Dr. William Blocker.

For more information on College of Biblical Studies, visit www.cbshouston.edu.

Read More

Brandon Gilmore

Director of Communications, NCCAA
302 W. Washington St. | Greenville, SC 29601
P 864-250-1199
@TheNCCAA